

On December 21, the Winter Solstice, the 13 Mystical Days begin.

*In Rudolf Steiner's work, he used the night time only-from Sundown on the Mystical Day to Sunrise the following day to gather the energy.
I utilize the entire 24-Hour period –
It should be up to each individual to decide the time for their work.*

The 13 Mystical Days are symbols for the 12 forces of the soul that live in us, which reveal themselves through the zodiac, and the 13th culmination and entrance to the following year.

December 21, 22, 23, & 24 are the darkest shortest days of the year and December 25th is the rebirth of the Sun (Son) and hope returns as the days start getting longer, and on January 1 at noon we have the Sun as close as possible to the Earth. (Astrotheology)

These days are the darkest of the year, and are closest to the Sun's Spirit, and this means that the Spiritual Son shining from inside the Earth makes it translucent and illuminates everything from the inside, not as it is afterwards when the Sun illuminates the Earth from above, from the outside.

Balancing The Law of Polarity, I am going to use the Moon Lunations for the creation of the artwork.

This period, which Steiner did indeed refer to as a time of spiritual renewal, is sometimes associated with a more condensed practice of 13 days (counting from December 21 to January 1), distinct from the 12 days of Christmas (December 25–January 6).

The Winter Solstice & Mystical Days Portal (Dec 21–Jan 1)

In this context, Steiner and Anthroposophical tradition emphasize the Winter Solstice (December 21) as a crucial turning point in the spiritual year. The Mystical Days Portal that follow the Solstice symbolize a time for deep soul work and spiritual reflection, marking a time when the earthly and spiritual worlds are particularly aligned.

The practice focuses on a 13-Day Cycle, with each 24-hour period associated with a different aspect of spiritual development, self-transformation, or divine insight. The key principle is that during this period, the human soul can align itself with cosmic rhythms and engage in inner work that prepares it for the year ahead.

The "13 Mystical Days Portal" Practice

Rudolf Steiner suggested that, beginning at the Winter Solstice (Dec. 21), these 13 days offer an opportunity for deep reflection and inner transformation, and that each day corresponds symbolically to each month of the coming year. The spiritual themes or meditative content of each day aligns with the 12 months of the year, and the 13th day represents the “gateway” to the future year.

Steiner himself used only the nights (Sundown to Sunrise) in his practice, but I have expanded it to days and nights – each person participating can do it as they intuit is best for them.

Here’s an outline of how this might unfold in the 13-day cycle, beginning with the Solstice, see P. 4

Practical Aspects of the Practice:

During the 13 Mystical Days Portal, practitioners might engage in several practices:

1. Daily Meditation: Focusing on one theme each day, meditating on its meaning and how it relates to one's life.
2. Dream Journaling: The Mystical Days Portal are also a time when spiritual influences are believed to affect our dreams, and recording them can help track insights.
3. Creative Expression: Some people express their inner reflections through art, music, or other creative outlets, which can amplify the meditative work.
4. Contemplation and Prayer: Using prayer to seek deeper alignment with spiritual beings or guidance from Christ.
5. Rituals: You might light a candle each day, read spiritual texts, or create a quiet space to allow for contemplation.

The Importance of the 13th Days

The 13th day is often seen as a culmination of the spiritual work of the previous days. It’s a time when all of the reflections, insights, and meditations come together, serving as a gateway to the new year.

Steiner emphasized that this final day is an important moment for spiritual commitment—a time to deepen one's connection with divine purpose and to prepare for the spiritual tasks of the upcoming year.

Combining the 13 Mystical Days Portal (based upon the 13 Holy Nights Tradition from Rudolf Steiner) with the Tarot's Major Arcana and the Kabbalah, provides a rich opportunity for self-reflection and spiritual development through the winter solstice period. The 13 Mystical Days Portal runs from December 21 to January 1, each day being connected with a specific theme of spiritual insight. By associating each Mystical Day with a Tarot card from the Major Arcana, we can deepen our connection to both traditions.

Moon Lunations: I am going to use the Moon Lunations from New Moon to Last Quarter for my work – and I am doing this to connect and align with Earth Energies and to balance The Law of Polarity in response to the celebration of the Sun (Son). You do not have to do this! You can start on the first day of the month and finish on or near the last day of the month.

The Art Supplies: you can use any size sketchpad for this process if you like. You can take a 100 page sketch pad made for all-media and begin by leaving the first 7 pages blank and start with the 8th page in the book and do the same throughout the whole pad – so that you have 13 Mystical Day substrates and 7 pages in between for notes and other artwork, and keep your “substrates” in that sketchbook.

Or you could make your creative work, coloring in the B.O.T.A. Tarot cards I provided using the color map guide I provide here. (Builders of the Adytum <https://www.bota.org/>, founded by Dr. Paul Foster Case)

Or you can use this creative time to write music, a play or a novel or create a shadow puppet theater for your community...

Humans have the ability to “draw” the Aetheric Energy into ourselves through our Crown Chakra while “drawing” the Earth Energy up through our feet, where it mixes together in the Solar Plexus Chakra and then is pumped out into our Aura - from this place of Cosmic Mixing of Energies, we are at our most powerful. In conjunction with this act, which happens unconsciously, we can train our thoughts to prayer, a positive statement of intention or a mantra, and from that point, we can envision a future of freedom, sovereignty and connection to the Divine.

Once we begin to practice this consciously, we activate abilities that we did not have before. Visual Art creation is one of the ways that we unconsciously hone our skills of moving Qi with our minds.

This is my experience, and it is available to everyone.

Of course, you must also be living by Natural Law (morality) to really reap the benefits of these powers. Simply, Treat Others The Way You Wish To Be Treated, and don't STEAL. You can find out more about this here.

I am a professional artist and I am going to be using 18" x 24" all media paper for my substrates. I will likely use abstractly painted tempera paint to break the monotony of the white page and prepare abstract "images" on my substrates, gathering the energy of this sacred time.

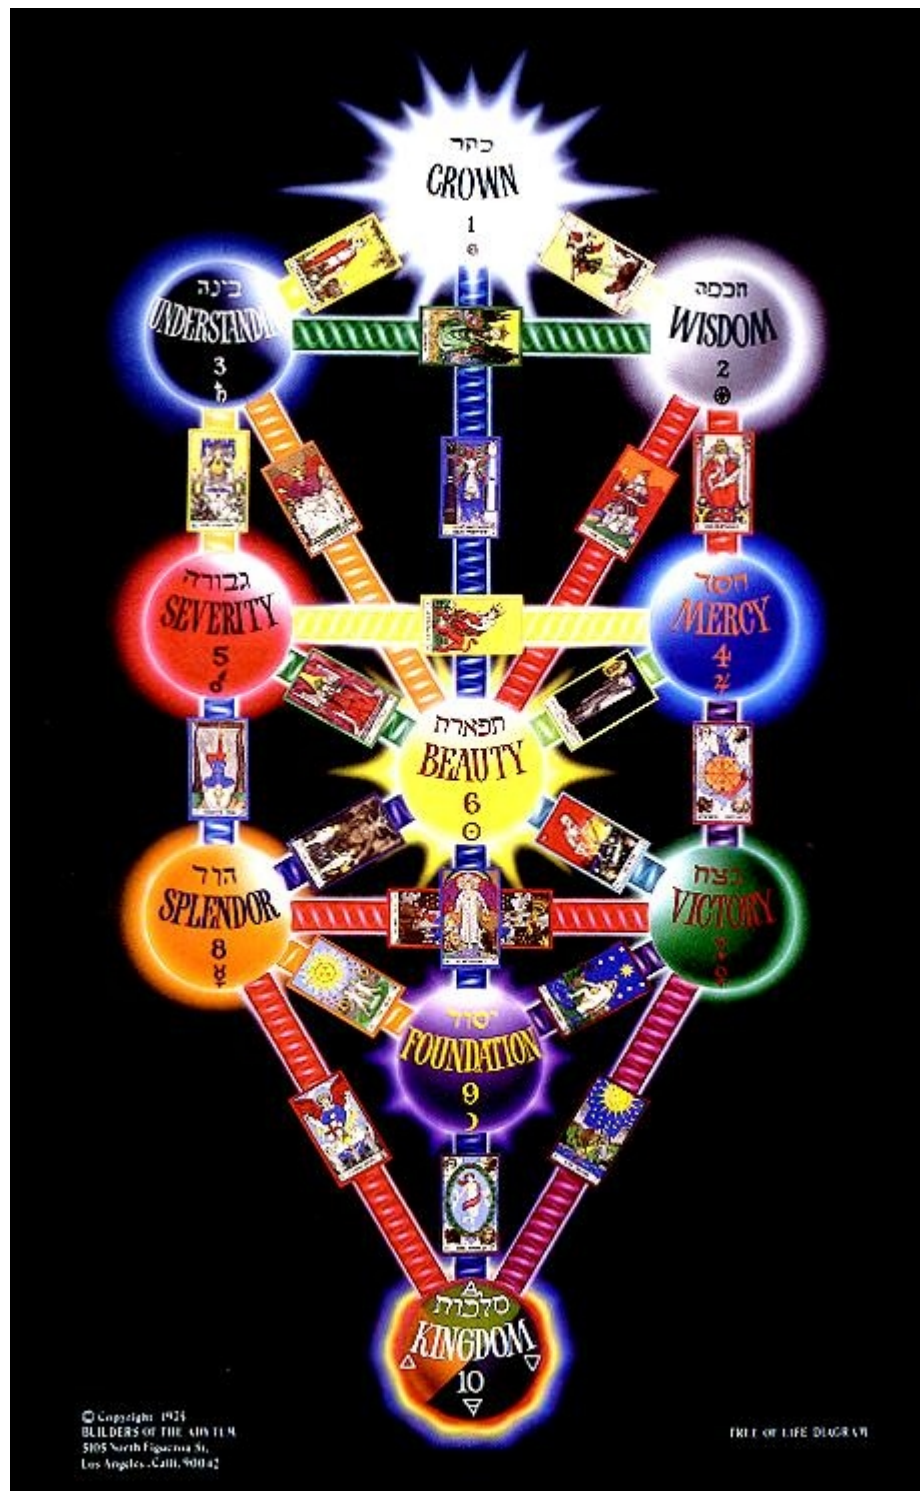

When it comes to the images themselves, I am doing images of wild mustangs and burros of the west because at the end I will be donating the artwork to Great Escape Mustang Rescue to be sold to raise money for that small local non-profit. You can read about The Wild Mustang and Burro Crisis here: <https://intuitiveart.net/wild-mustangs/the-bureau-of-land-management-wild-mustang-roundups-are-an-inhumane-act-of-cruelty/>

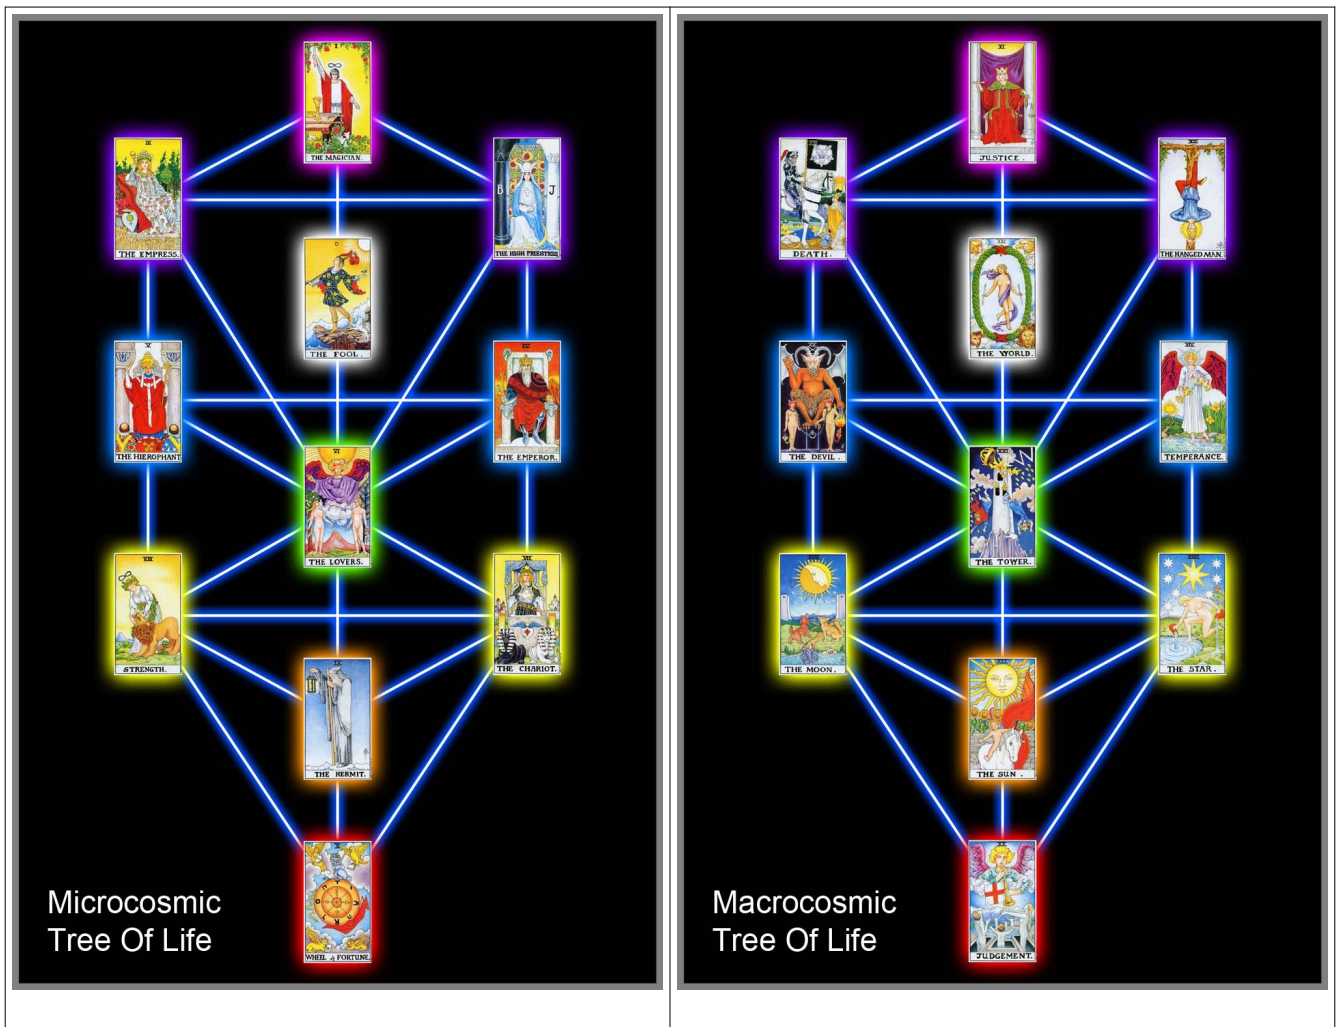

I will be posting about the artwork I create for this project throughout the year in various social media outlets.

The next 2 pages show The Kabbalah Tree of Life and it's relationship to the Tarot.

Then comes a proposed way to combine the 13 Mystical Days Portal with the Major Arcana and the Kabbalah, starting with December 21 and ending on January 1:

Dr. Paul Foster Case, founder of the Builders of The Adytum and creator of the B.O.T.A. Tarot <https://www.bota.org/> said that it was by coloring in the deck that you would DRAW in the images into your subconscious, so this could be an activity to do during this time, following the colors... and he also believed that you could combine the Christian Mysticism with the Kabbalah and Hermeticism for a potent spiritual awakening, instead of allowing "religion" to keep them separated.

1st Mystical Day: December 21 (Winter Solstice)

Capricorn

Related to January

Begin the Artwork during New Moon: December 30, 2024 through the Full Moon – January 13 and onward through the Last Quarter before the next New Moon.

Realize that you will still be making substrates for the last part of 2025 when you begin the artwork for this day.

Contemplate Capricorn
Cardinal Earth, Saturn (Limitation)

Cosmic Birth and Renewal

This day marks the spiritual birth of the Son/Sun (Christ) being into the world of human consciousness. It's a time to reflect on the cosmic significance of light and rebirth.

Focus: Renewal, the potential for spiritual awakening, and inner illumination.

Kabbalah Day 1: Winter Solstice - Keter (Crown)

Theme: Divine Unity, Source of All Creation

Kabbalistic Focus: Keter is the highest Sefirah and represents the Divine Will or Source of all life. The Winter Solstice marks the moment of deepest darkness, but also the return of the light, as the days slowly begin to lengthen. On this day, focus on the deep sense of unity, oneness with the Source of all, and the primal creative energy that exists before all manifestation.

Practice: Meditation on the infinite nature of the Divine, visualizing the Divine Light that emerges from the darkness, and feeling the interconnectedness of all beings.

Kybalion: The Principle of Mentalism – Recognize that the universe is mental in nature; begin to see the light of creation in your mind. THE ALL is mind, the Universe is Mental - Contemplation, Meditation, Concentration, Telepathy, The Claires, Remote Viewing, The Astral Plane, The Akasha, The Aether & Sacred Geometry – The Seed of Life.

The Tarot– The Fool (0)

Theme: A new beginning, innocence, and potential.

Connection to Mystical Days Portal: The first day marks the beginning of the soul's renewal cycle. It's a time of opening up to new possibilities and trusting the unknown. Just as The Fool steps into the unknown, we are invited to let go of past burdens and start afresh.

Yellow: Solar Plexus – the will & The Will. Purple – Spiritual, White: Purity, Green: Heart & Mother Earth, Brown – The Earth, a mixture of blue and orange – which sacral chakra (emotions) and throat (expression)

Chaos and Limitation

Soul and Spirit

Contemplating the relationship between the soul and the spirit. The soul is seen as the inner vehicle for spiritual growth, and this day might focus on how we can purify the soul to receive divine inspiration.

Focus: The journey of the soul, purification, and spiritual ascent.

Day 2: Chochmah (Wisdom)

Theme: Intuitive Knowledge, Illumination

Kabbalistic Focus: Chochmah is the Divine Wisdom that sparks creation and inspires intuitive understanding. On this day, allow yourself to open to flashes of insight or intuitive wisdom. It's a time to cultivate clarity and direct knowing that goes beyond intellectual thought.

Practice: Contemplate moments of insight or understanding in your life. Open yourself to receiving new wisdom, and ask for divine guidance as you begin a new cycle.

The Magician (I)

Theme: Manifestation, creativity, and power.

Connection to Mystical Days Portal: This day is about beginning to recognize your inner resources and talents. The Magician teaches that everything you need for transformation is already within you. The focus is on self-empowerment and the potential to create your reality.

Kybalion: Law of Correspondence — As above, so below, as below, so above; As within, so without.

Sacred Geometry: The line, representing the first extension from the point.

Yellow: Solar Plexus, The Will. Red: Root. White: Purity. Green: Heart, and Mother Earth

3rd Mystical Day: December 23; Pisces

Related to March

Begin the Artwork during New Moon; Feb 27 – Continue through the Full Moon – March 14, and onward through the Last Quarter before the next New Moon.
Contemplate Jupiter and Neptune (Illusion and Mysticism)

Self-Awareness

This day brings a focus on self-awareness and self-reflection, looking at our strengths and weaknesses.

Focus: Awakening to our higher spiritual potential, cultivating clarity and understanding of self.

Day 3: Binah (Understanding)

Theme: Divine Understanding, Discernment

Kabbalistic Focus: Binah is the Sefirah of understanding and insight. It is the receptive, nurturing force that allows wisdom to take root and grow. On this day, focus on cultivating inner understanding, clarity, and discernment.

Practice: Reflect on areas in your life where you seek deeper understanding or the ability to process wisdom more fully. Meditate on how wisdom is being manifested in your life and how you can integrate it more consciously.

The High Priestess (II)

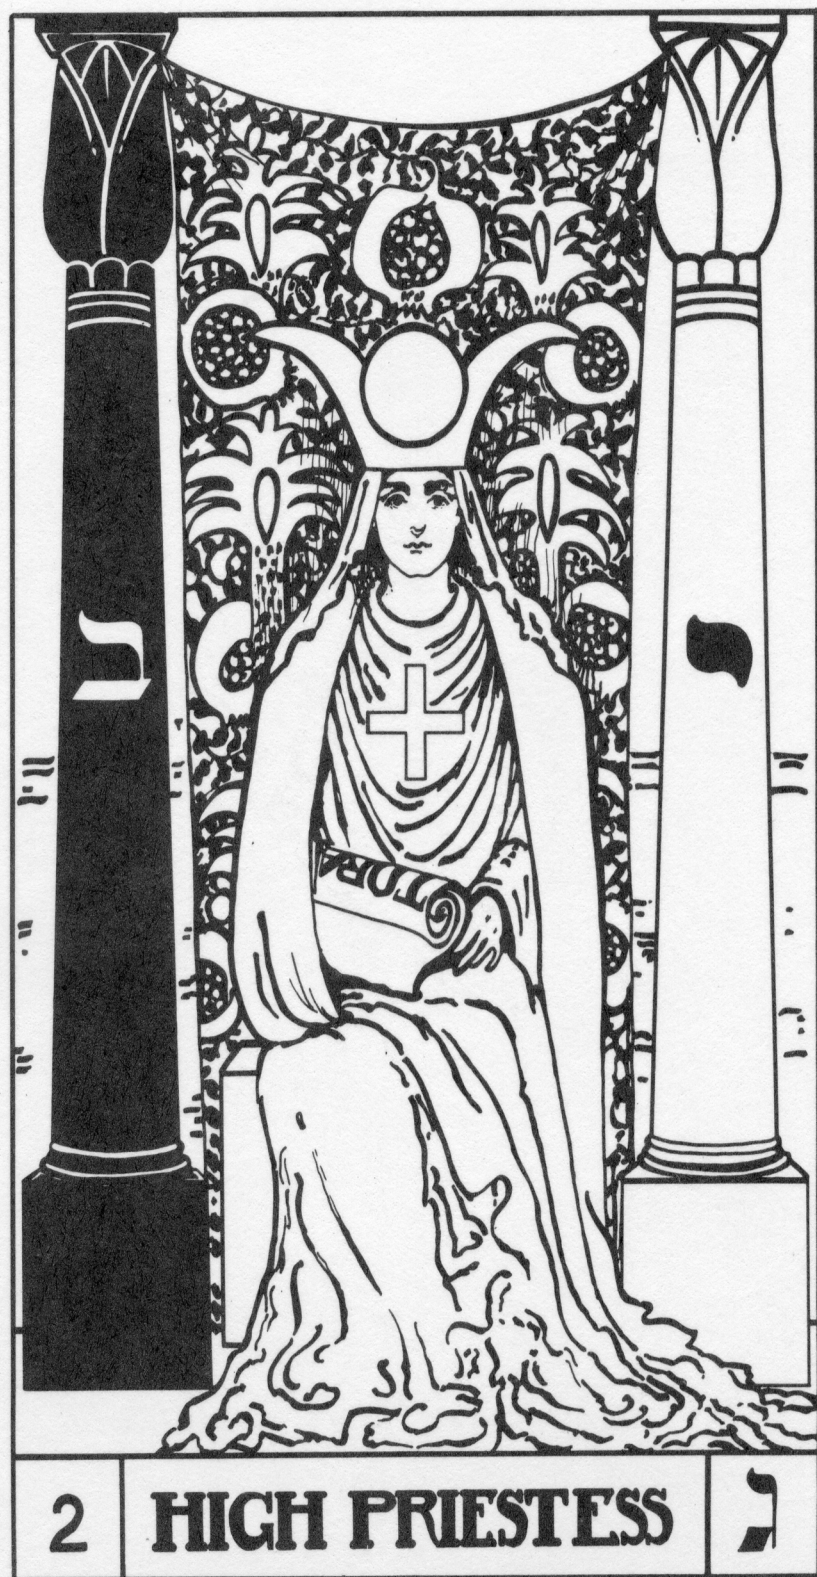

Theme: Intuition, wisdom, and the unconscious.

Connection to Mystical Days Portal: As the days grow shorter, the invitation here is to connect to the deeper, hidden wisdom within you. The High Priestess encourages stillness, listening to your intuition, and trusting the inner voice that often guides in subtle, hidden ways.

Kybalion: Law of Vibration — everything vibrates at a certain frequency.

Sacred Geometry: The Vesica Piscis — the sacred feminine, the union of opposites.

Blue is Intuition, Feminine, Corresponds with the Third Eye Chakra.

4th Mystical Day: December 24; Aries

Related to April

Begin the Artwork during New Moon; March 29 – Continue on through the Full Moon – April 12 and continue through the Last Quarter before the next New Moon.

Contemplate Mars

Humanity and Christ (The Sun/Son)

Reflecting on the birth of Christ and what it means for human evolution. Steiner emphasized Christ's role as the spiritual light for humanity.

Focus: Christ's spiritual significance and our connection to the Divine.

Day 4: Chesed (Loving-kindness)

Theme: Compassion, Love, Generosity

Kabbalistic Focus: Chesed is the Sefirah of mercy, love, and expansiveness. It represents the infinite love of God and the ability to give without limitation. On this day, focus on embodying unconditional love, both for yourself and for others.

Practice: Engage in acts of kindness or simply meditate on love in its purest form—without condition, expectation, or attachment. Cultivate gratitude for the love in your life.

The Empress (III)

Theme: Nurturing, abundance, and creation.

Connection to Mystical Days Portal: The Mystical Day of December 24 is often a time of family, reflection, and gratitude. The Empress embodies nurturing and care, encouraging us to cultivate compassion, love, and gratitude in our lives, and to honor the natural abundance that surrounds us.

Green is the Heart Chakra as well as the color of Mother Earth

Kybalion: Law of Polarity — Everything has its poles, in the same kind, and peace is found in Neutrality.

Sacred Geometry: The spiral, representing growth, expansion, and creation.

5th Mystical Day: December 25; Taurus

Related to May

Begin the Artwork during New Moon; April 27 – Continue through the Full Moon – May 12 and onward through the Last Quarter and up to the following New Moon.

Contemplate Venus

Christ's Cosmic Light (birth of the SUN)

Celebrating the spiritual birth of Christ and the potential to receive light into the soul.

Focus: Embracing the spiritual light and love Christ offers to all beings.

Day 5: Gevurah (Strength)

Theme: Discipline, Boundaries, Justice

Kabbalistic Focus: Gevurah represents strength, discipline, and the power to act with precision and boundaries. It is the counterbalance to Chesed's expansiveness. This day invites you to reflect on where you need to assert boundaries, bring discipline, or act with strength and courage.

Practice: Meditate on where in your life you need to establish stronger boundaries, bring more structure, or stand firm in your personal power. Ask for strength to carry out your intentions with integrity.

The Emperor (IV)

Theme: Structure, authority, and stability.

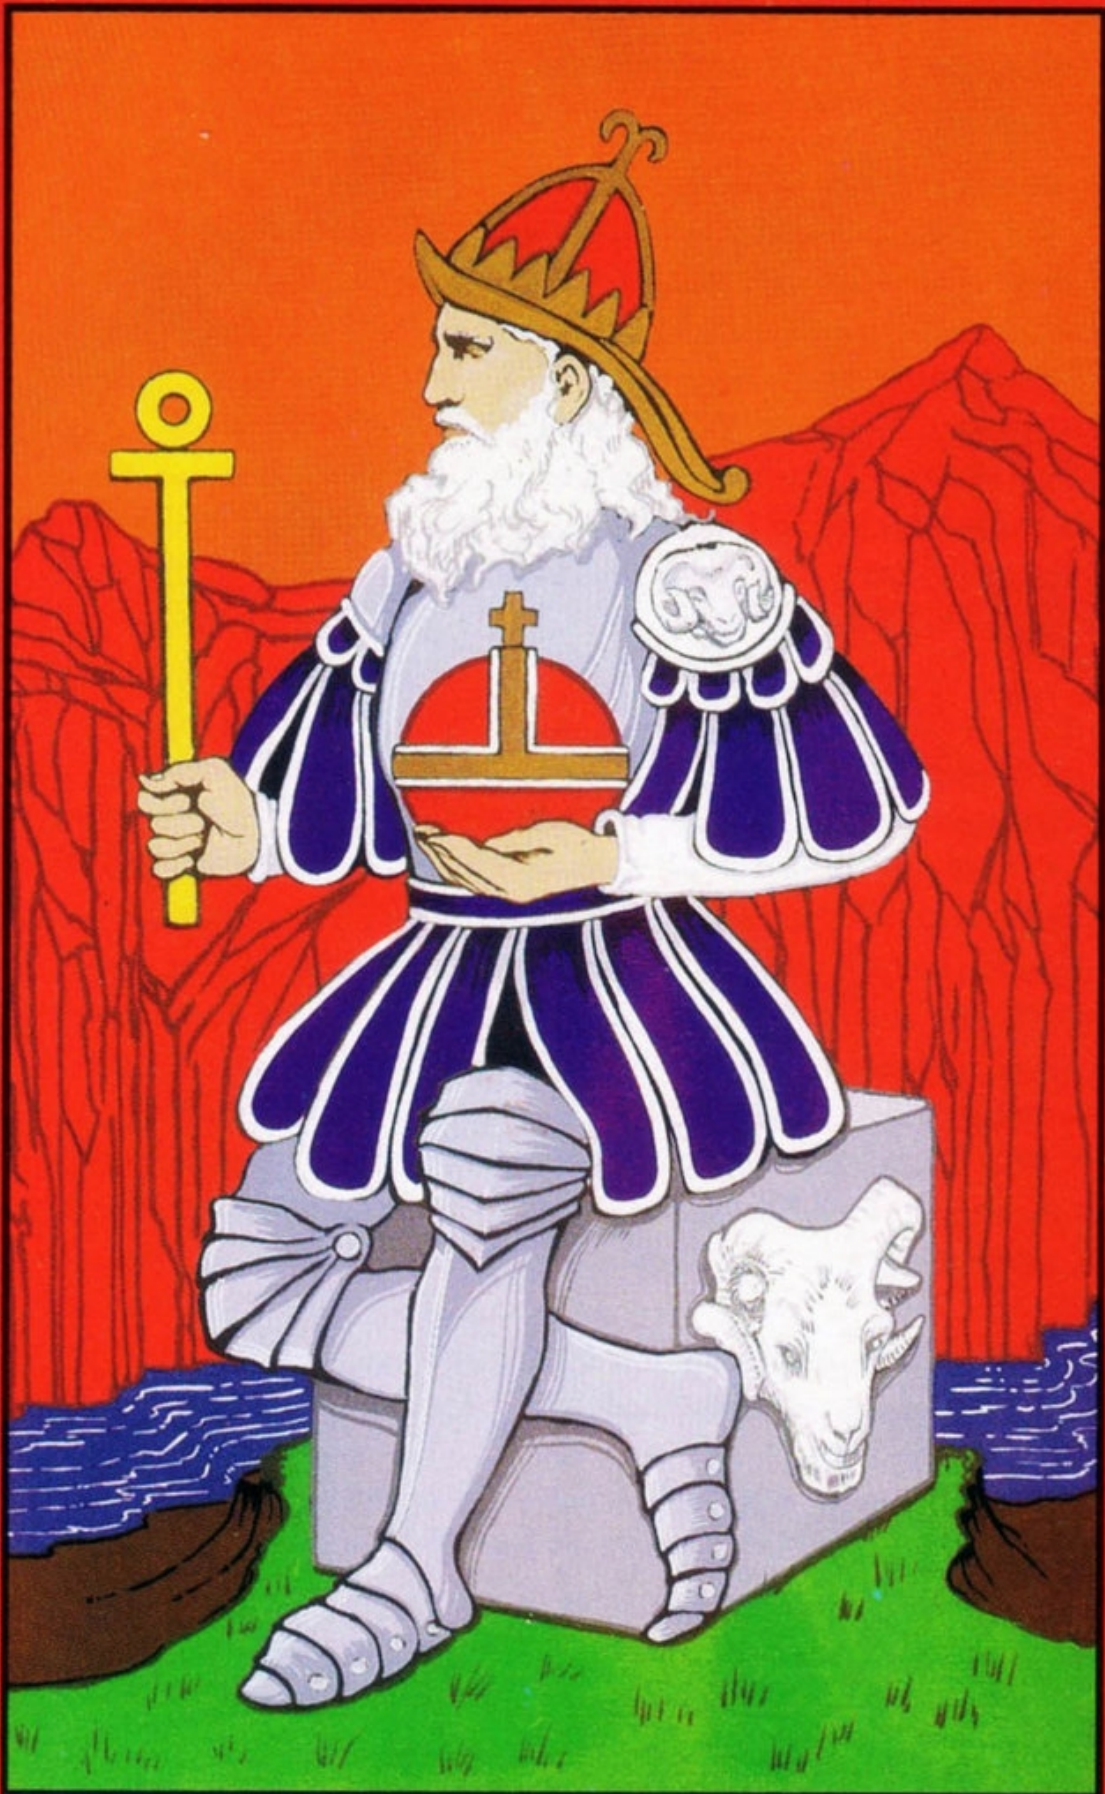

Connection to Mystical Days Portal: December 25 represents a turning point in the Mystical Days Portal, a time when we receive the light of wisdom. The Emperor embodies the principle of order, discipline, and leadership, calling for a balance of authority with love in our relationships and endeavors.

Red is Masculine. The Root Chakra, Stability, Security.

Kybalion: Law of Rhythm — cycles of the Earth, The Moon, The Seasons, of Life, Ebb and Flow.

Sacred Geometry: The square, representing stability and structure.

Contemplate Mercury

The Birth of the Individual

Reflecting on individualization and the development of unique human potential.

Focus: Personal growth, authenticity, and becoming who you are meant to be.

Day 6: Tiferet (Beauty, Harmony)

Theme: Balance, Inner Beauty, Integration

Kabbalistic Focus: Tiferet is the Sefirah of beauty, harmony, and balance. It is the synthesis of both love (Chesed) and strength (Gevurah). On this day, reflect on how you can bring balance into your life, integrating the various polarities within you (light and dark, strength and softness).

Practice: Contemplate the beauty in your life, in your inner being, and in the world around you. Reflect on how you can create harmony within yourself and in your relationships.

The Hierophant (V)

Theme: Tradition, guidance, and spiritual wisdom.

Connection to Mystical Days Portal: This day focuses on connecting with higher guidance—whether through tradition, religion, or spiritual teachings. The Hierophant asks us to seek out wisdom from the elders or spiritual leaders in our lives, as well as to connect with the traditions that ground us, while also being sure not to let other people or rituals stand in the place of our personal connection to the Divine.

Gray is a blending of black and white energies which comes from the wisdom of the elders.

Kybalion: Law of Cause and Effect — Every Effect has it's Cause, ever Cause has it's effect. You reap what you sow. Your path today may be the result of something unresolved from another lifetime.

Sacred Geometry: The hexagon, representing harmony and balance.

Will and Action

Strengthening willpower and resolve in the face of challenges, and finding inner courage to act on one's highest calling.

Focus: The power of the will and how to align it with spiritual purpose.

Day 7: Netzach (Victory, Eternity)

Theme: Persistence, Willpower, Victory

Kabbalistic Focus: Netzach represents the enduring quality of victory, persistence, and the drive to overcome obstacles. It is the force that propels you forward. On this day, reflect on your long-term goals and the strength required to see them through.

Practice: Reflect on what goals you wish to achieve in the coming year. Meditate on the persistence and willpower you need to move past obstacles and challenges.

The Lovers (VI)

Theme: Union, choices, and relationships.

Connection to Mystical Days Portal: A time for reflecting on relationships and the choices we make that define them. The Lovers card invites us to consider how we form connections and how we align ourselves with our true purpose. It's also a call to balance our inner masculine and feminine energies.

Orange corresponds to the sacral chakra, and purple to the Crown Chakra. So this card is a lot about family, emotions, and the Higher Family connection. It's about brain balance – the masculine and feminine – Mental Gender – so that the Higher Neocortex can function.

Kybalion: Law of Gender — the balance of masculine and feminine energies. Brain Balance, so that they Neocortex, higher reasoning, can function.

Sacred Geometry: The equilateral triangle, symbolizing balance between opposites. 2 points, ruled by the Higher Power, is the strongest shape.

Love and Compassion

Developing compassion and love for others, especially in difficult situations. Love as a transformative force.

Focus: The heart's power to heal and unite.

Day 8: Hod (Glory, Splendor)

Theme: Clarity, Humility, Gratitude

Kabbalistic Focus: Hod represents the quality of humility, receptivity, and clarity. It is about understanding the glory of the Divine in all things and approaching life with gratitude. On this day, focus on surrender and acknowledging the beauty of the Divine in the small details of life.

Practice: Contemplate the areas of your life where you can express more gratitude and humility. Reflect on how you can open yourself to divine beauty through greater receptivity.

The Chariot (VII)

Theme: Willpower, determination, and victory.

Connection to Mystical Days Portal: The energy of this day is about movement, direction, and harnessing one's will. The Chariot asks us to find inner strength and focus, pushing us toward our goals with confidence and resilience. The Mystical Day here encourages a sense of purpose as we enter the second half of this sacred period.

Black and White are about the checkerboard floor of the Masonic Temple, whereby the unaware do not realize where they step – in good or bad – they are not aware – hence the black and white sphynxes represent the opposing forces of male and female which must be balanced by free will and the sphynxes themselves represent a riddle that must be answered.

Kybalion: The Lost Law of Care – How none of these would be possible without Care – The Heart.

Sacred Geometry: The circle, representing wholeness, perfection.

Wisdom and Insight

A time for deep reflection and inner wisdom, learning to listen to higher spiritual guidance.

Focus: Developing spiritual insight and discernment.

Day 9: Yesod (Foundation)

Theme: Connection, Grounding, Manifestation

Kabbalistic Focus: Yesod is the foundation that links the higher spiritual realms (the intellectual and emotional) to the physical world. It represents the deep connection to your inner self and the earth. This day focuses on grounding spiritual practices in the physical world and connecting to your deeper roots.

Practice: Meditate on how you can create a stronger foundation in your life. Reflect on your spiritual practices and how you can manifest them more concretely in the world.

Strength (VIII)

Theme: Courage, inner strength, and compassion.

Connection to Mystical Days Portal: A time to connect with the deep well of inner strength that resides within us. Strength teaches us that true power is gentle and compassionate. On this day, we reflect on how we might transform challenges into opportunities for growth.

Yellow – Higher Will White – Purity Red – Root Chakra Green – Heart Chakra Blue – Indigo – Intuition

Kybalion: Mental Gender – Practicing the “I” (Masculine) and the “Me” (Feminine), and through Meditation, developing the Observer Self to be able to act in the “I” – and not fall into the “Me” selfish desires.

Sacred Geometry: The cube, representing the material world and grounded strength.

Healing and Renewal

Reflecting on healing, both physically and spiritually, and understanding the transformative power of healing energy.

Focus: Inner healing and renewal of body, mind, and spirit.

Day 10: Malkhut (Sovereignty, Kingdom)

Theme: Manifestation, Sovereignty

Kabbalistic Focus: Malkhut represents the material world, sovereignty, and the manifestation of divine energy in the physical realm. It is the culmination of all the energies of the Sefirot and the manifestation of the Divine in the world. On this day, focus on the ways in which divine will is manifest in the world and in your life.

Practice: Reflect on how you can embody your highest ideals in the physical world. Consider how you can bring more spiritual presence into your daily life and interactions.

The Hermit (IX)

Theme: Solitude, introspection, and inner wisdom.

Connection to Mystical Days Portal: As the days & days grow longer, The Hermit brings a call for introspection and meditation. This day invites us to retreat within, reflecting on what we have learned during the previous days & days and cultivating deeper spiritual insight.

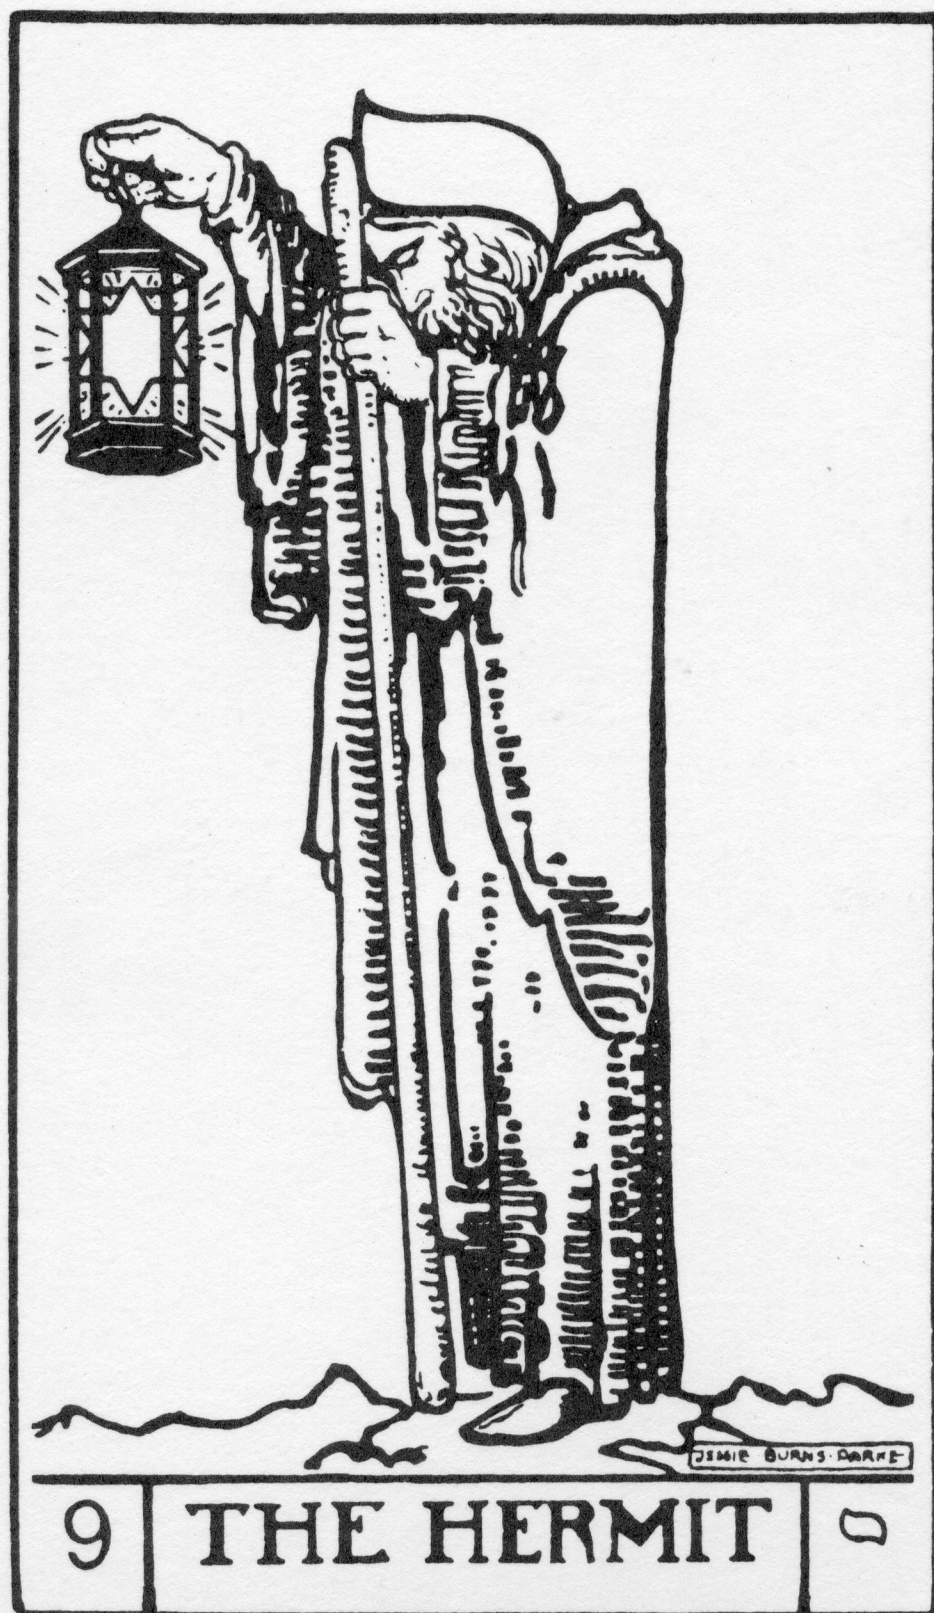

Black is the Mystery

He has a Yod on his head

His lamp is the chalice and the blade, which lights his way – the balance of the Divine Feminine and the Divine Masculine – brain balance – Neocortex fully operational – lights his way through the darkness of the Mystery.

Kybalion: Revisit The Law of Mentalism

Sacred Geometry: The octahedron, symbolizing balance between the spiritual and physical.

Sacrifice and Transformation

A time to reflect on the sacrifice required for spiritual growth and transformation, letting go of the past.

Focus: The willingness to release attachments and transform through inner sacrifice.

Days 11-13: The Final Pathways (Unification and Renewal)

Themes: Unity, Divine Vision, Rebirth

Kabbalistic Focus: These final days & days could focus on the integration of all the Sefirot and pathways of the Tree of Life, bringing all the spiritual work from the previous days & days to a point of unification. The journey is one of renewal and spiritual rebirth, culminating in a new spiritual vision for the year ahead.

Practice: During the last days & days, meditate on the unity of all aspects of your being. Reflect on the rebirth of spiritual awareness and the divine light entering your life as you prepare for the new year.

Wheel of Fortune (X)

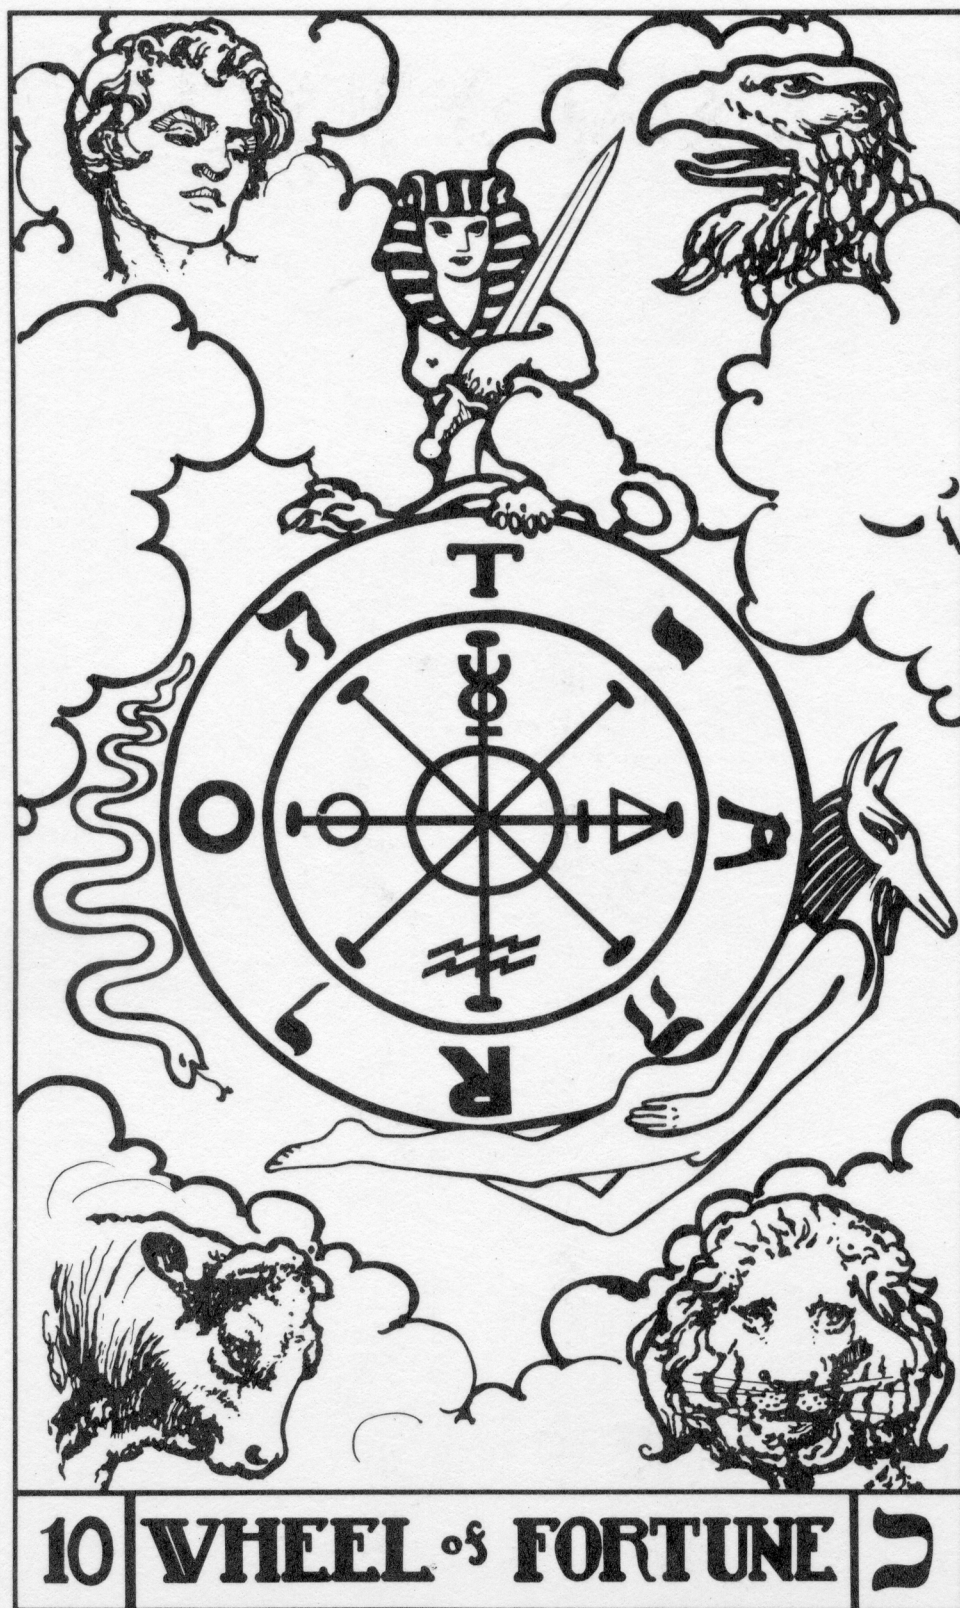

Theme: Destiny, cycles, and change.

Connection to Mystical Days Portal: The end of the year is symbolized by the Wheel of Fortune, a time to reflect on the cycles of life, luck, and the unfolding of destiny. This day teaches us that life moves in cycles, and we are constantly being carried along by forces beyond our control, inviting us to embrace change and trust in the process.

As the Wheel turns, the letters read ROTA TARO ORAT TORA ATOR. These are Latin words which translates roughly as “The Wheel of Tarot speaks the Law of Nature”. The red man with the head of the jackal represents the Egyptian God, Anubis who is about Truth.

Kybalion: The Law of Mentalism

Sacred Geometry: The Flower of Life, revealing cycles and patterns in Nature.

The Hanged Man (XII)

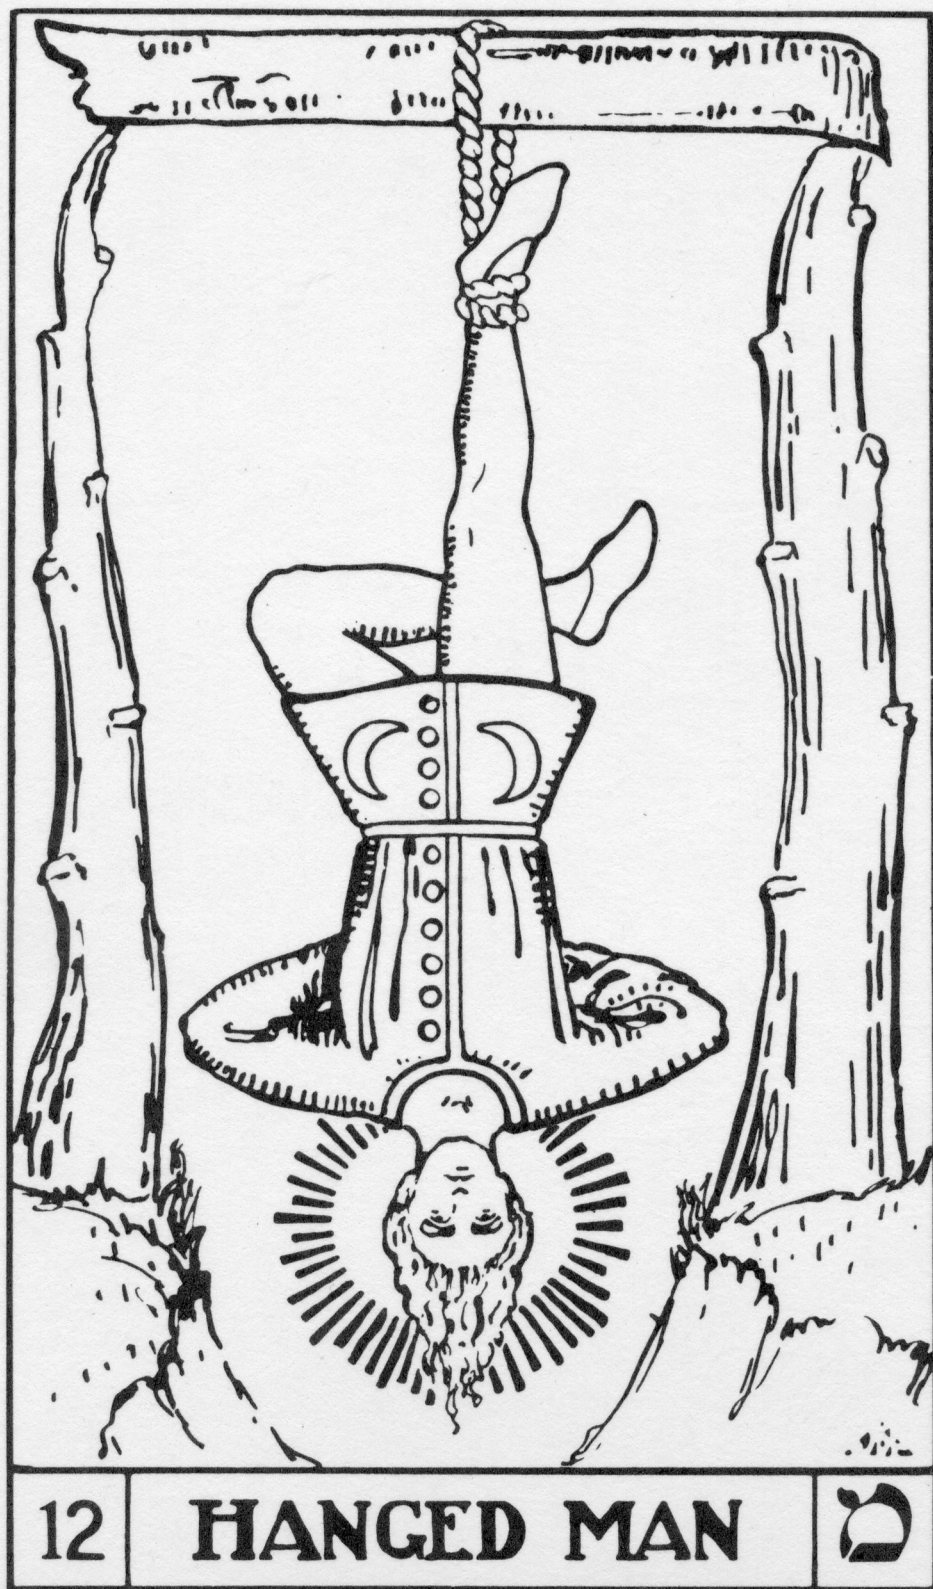

Theme: Sacrifice, new perspectives, and letting go.

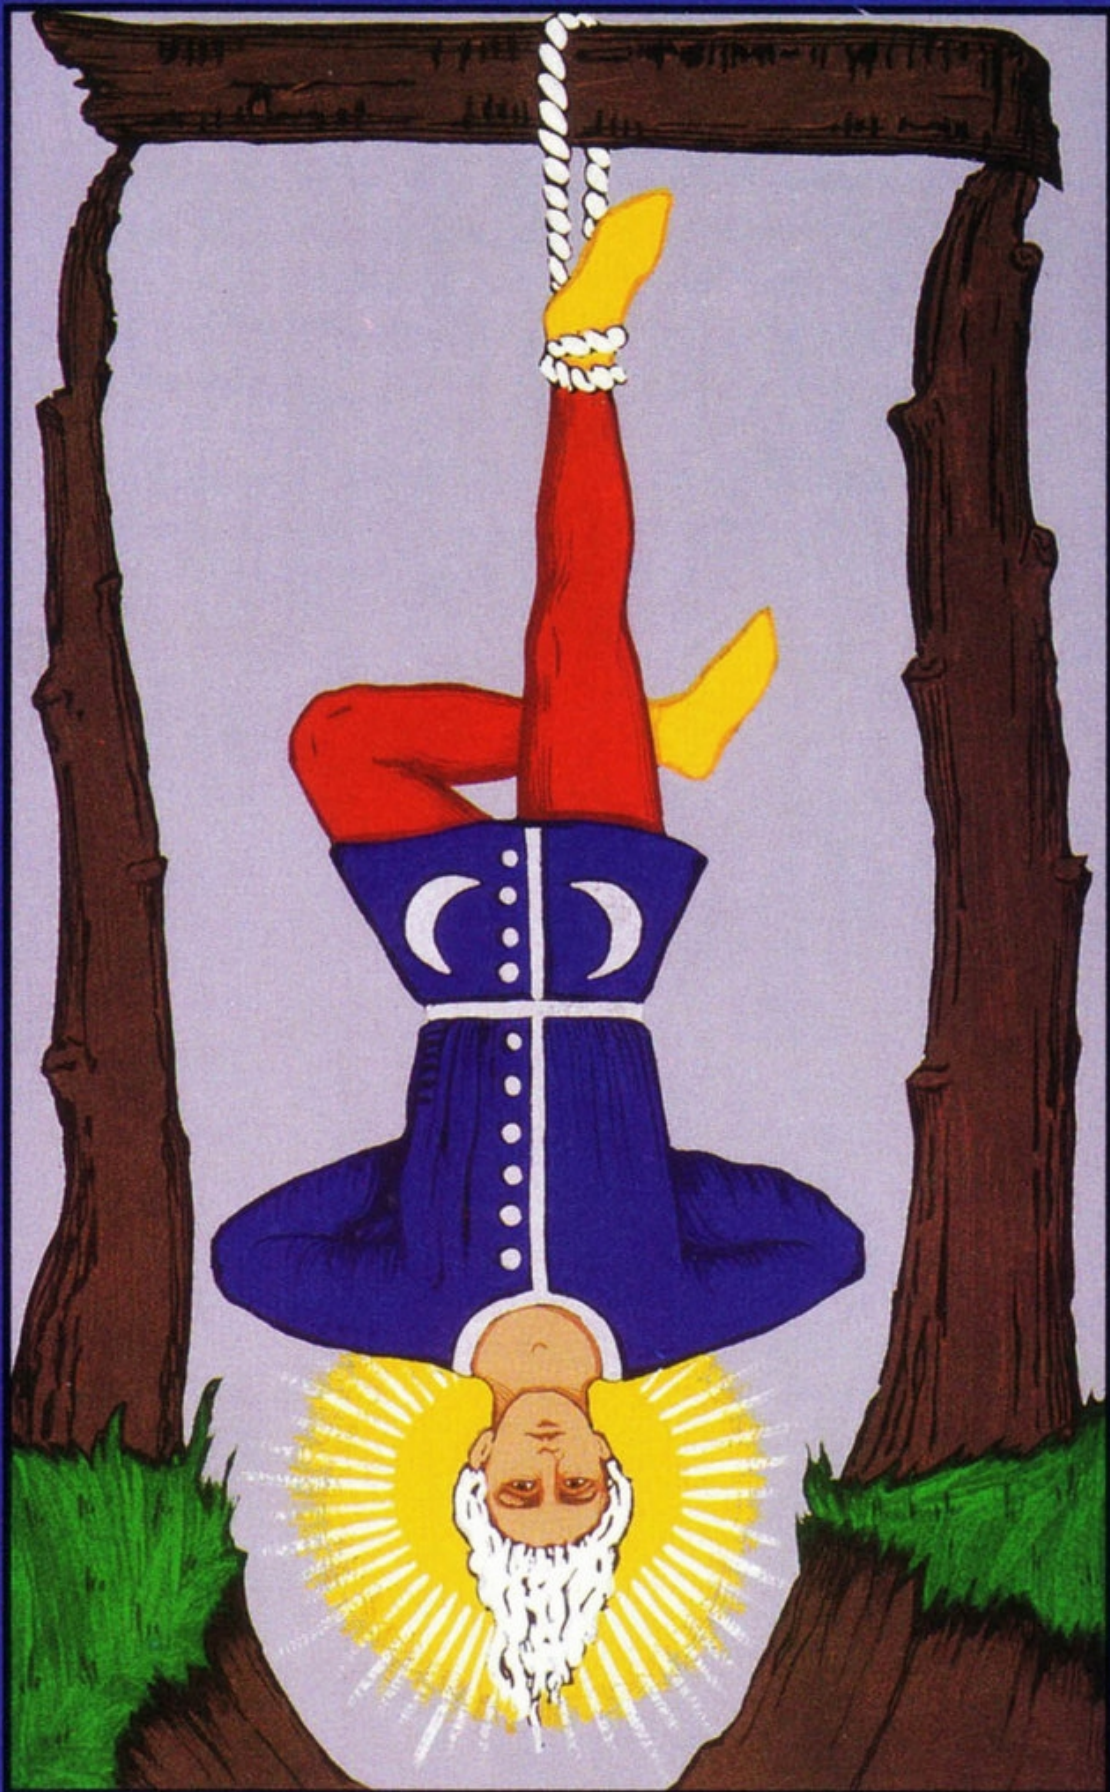

Connection to Mystical Days Portal: After New Year's Day, The Hanged Man invites us to reflect on where we may need to surrender, release, or see things from a new perspective. This card challenges us to transform our approach to life and see beyond the immediate, letting go of outdated beliefs or behaviors in order to grow.

Grey – blended energies – of the elder wisdom...

Kybalion: The Law of Mentalism: THE ALL is in All and All is in THE ALL.

Sacred Geometry: The dodecahedron, the completion of the cosmic pattern.
